Dear Steve

I received your Bulletin re:
game nos. . .

I believe what I said about game nos. still gas.

As you say Mrs. Post don't know what she is talking about because of being inexperienced with the Stafford - Her statements are not facts but her opinion and unsubstantiated thinking and also to disagree - She is like some of these Rebels in our Colleges to-day.

She is not for nothing at all, she is against every body and every thing - One who thinks knows all knows nothing.

To further lead our Staffords re:
game res. @ note:

Characteristics

✓ indomitable courage - high intelligence ✓ tenacity, affection, trust worthy, stability -

7 from the book SBT - 1 Halliday page 47 Mr Amos Smith 4 pair on Staffords - 2nd stock to be clear game with our proof is determinant to the breed ✓.

The consideration of a Stafford should be first be game-ness, courage & endurance

And one is forced to admit that the only way to prove this is for the dogs to be true -

The following all agree with the above characterisation

Boylan. Maden. Joe Mallen Tom Pierce Joe Dunn - Corno Smith and must never be forgotten -

The Breed Standards for the SBT + American Pit Bull Terrier are the same - with the exception of size + cropping of the ears.

Quote Holland

I have owned + bred many breeds - but found true fearlessness in SBT + no other breed whose fundamental characteristics have been so well preserved as in the Stoppans, hances, Gomesas, unqueto just to mention a few who were game plus show dog.

Ch. San Remo on gun.

Ch. Fearless - Best of Bantams

Fearless Joe ; Cooney, Charlie Floyd; Champion Pilot + Paddy Maguire imported from Ireland

Irish bell 26 lbs. won 9 battles }

Don over Par won 6 - from ~~Ireland~~ one many too Ireland

memos to mention.

I will quote from Horns head members of the Pur Bull Terrier and an article on Some ones

Quote

Many of the real great breeders of the past and present, know for a fact that the man doesn't live or never did, that couldn't truthfully swear that any dog breed would stand a pulling - The best he can say as do is to breed one right as he can and if he turns to fight him he can hear his money that the dog will prove some to the dog, no matter who the breeder. The best one can do is look for his dog to stand a pulling & to fight to the end, only under the judges conditions, to judge a dog to be game because of some hard fight he has put up.

might be all right & no doubt the man who has put a dog, & does not know any more of him.

would be hard to convince, that his dog might prove a cur.

The hard fight you have seen your dog endure & win may cause the cause of him proving a quitter, may fast in his next battle

To convince anyone who might have a shadow of a doubt, that it comes to gameness, class & breeding is a must - also properly bred & conditions. It is just flesh & blood, some take & stony more than others. But abuse & ignorance doesn't go hand & hand in producing game dogs. Any thing less will have on it can be made to stop with more or less abuse.

I hope this helps out a little as ever
 Joe
